The figures in the table above have been provided to enable prospective buyers and tenants to compare the fuel costs and carbon emissions of one home with another. To enable this comparison the figures have been calculated using standardised energy performance rating periods, room temperatures, etc. They are the same for all homes, consequently they are unlikely to match an occupier's actual fuel bills and carbon emissions in practice. The figures do not include the impact of the fuel used for cooking or heating appliances, such as TV, fridge etc. nor do they reflect the costs associated with service, maintenance or safety inspections. Always check the certificate date because fuel prices can change over time and energy saving recommendations will evolve.

To see how this home can achieve its potential rating please see the recommended measures.

Remember to look for the energy saving recommendations logo when buying energy efficient products. It's a mark and easy one to verify the most energy efficient products on the market.

This EPC and recommendations report may be given to the Energy Saving Trust to provide you with information on improving your heating & energy performance.
